“ My heart is broken as I just received the sad news of Joys passing. Joy & I are cousins from Newfoundland as her Dad was my Grandmother’s Brother! We have shared lots of stories through our contact by telephone & mail & always looked forward to chatting with her about our families & my visit to New York some day! Gloria, my condolences to you, her only Sister! I will always remember her laughter, memories of Newfoundland, love for Steve, love for her sister Gloria & me trying to convince her to get a passport & come to Newfoundland one last time! Thank you for your many calls, your love for life, your little house in New York, your cherished friends, your family, your neighbours & your love for your Church family! Now you get to spend Christmas with Steve! RIP

“ Sent my yearly Christmas card to “Auntie Joy” as she was known to me since I was a child. The card was returned and I realized that something may have happened to her. Sadly came upon this news. My grandparents were good friends with her parents and my parents were good friends with Joy and her sister Gloria. I grew up thinking she was my Aunt until I became an adult and my mom told me that she was a very dear friend. I have very fond memories of her and her husband Steve. I can honestly say that I can hear her rapid fire voice now, if I think about it. She always made me laugh! Her conversations were like listening to an auctioneer, she never took a breath, it was amazing. I am so sorry Gloria for your loss. I know that Joy is in heaven talking up a storm and Steve and my parents are all there trying to get a word in. Rest in peace “Auntie Joy”, you will be missed...

“ Joy Barrone’s life is one to be celebrated! She was truly one of a kind. My mother-in-law’s childhood friend, became mine. I loved her dearly. Her name said it all, JOY. My family affectionately called her, “YaYa”. Everyone that knew her can say she had a way of asking a question and answering it all in one sentence. I will always cherish the love and laughter we shared. Please accept my heartfelt condolences.

“ I only got to know Joy a few years ago, but she was the type of person you thought you knew all your life. She was outgoing, friendly and she was so funny. Her smile would light up a room! On one occasion I had the privilege of driving Joy, Jennie and Mrs. Gaines to the 50th Anniversary of the Helping Hand Mission. They sat in the back like a bunch of teenagers. They were so funny, I never laughed so hard in my life! I pray that Joy will find eternal rest and peace in our Lord and Savior. She will be missed! Thank you for the laughs Joy!

“ Joy and I were friends at Lincoln elementary school some 75 years ago. She was a bridesmaid in our wedding. We have lived in Texas for almost 40 years and Joy and I talked about twice a week. She was my faithful telephone friend. I am already missing those calls. It is such a comfort to know she knew Christ as her personal Savior.

“ Joy has been wonderful friends especially when my husband and I moved to Pa. to pastor. We grew up together, attended the same church and our families were very close. Joy and I would talk together about twice a month. She would share recipes, that she knew our family would enjoy. She will be missed greatly. Happy to know we will see her in heaven someday. Our family is in prayer for her family and friends, especially Gloria.
