“ My Father-in-Law, Charles A. Quit, was a very intelligent and interesting man. He possessed remarkable talent and extraordinary creativity. His energy was boundless, and everything he did was performed meticulously. During WW II he proudly served his country as a flight instructor, and he remained an active recreational pilot until very recent years. God bless his soul. With Love from Patricia

“ Miss me, but let me go

When I come to the end of the road

And the sun has set for me

I want no rites in a gloom filled room

Why cry for a soul set free

Miss me a little - but not too long

And not with your head bowed low

Remember the love that we once shared

Miss me - but let me go

For this is a journey that we must all take

And each must go alone

It's all a part of the Master's plan

A step on the road to home

When you are lonely, and sick of heart

Go to the friends we know

And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds

Miss me - but let me go

“ I will miss my Grandfather very much even though I never got to see him as often as I would like to, Now that he is gone all I have is memories. The memory I will remember the most is that he taught me how to play the best game ever "GOLF". To my Grandfather I love You, and one day I will see you again.

Until that day comes every time I play Golf I will think of you.
