“ To my best friend, I cannot believe this photo was just taken December 19th. Or that I won't be able to look into your striking blue eyes ever again or hear your goofy voice, that I adored. I remember the first day we ever hung out we just stayed up all night laughing enjoying ourselves. I may have just met you less than a year ago but you became one of my closes friends in such a short amount of time. You are my best friend faz, forever no matter what. I'll keep our memories like dancing around your living room listening to the Rolling Stones, or how you brought me to Popeyes for my first time ever and got me that pie I just had to try.. You said! Well my friend this goodbye isn't forever one day we'll met again and dancing with the Rolling Stones in heaven 🤖

“ Allison & Tony,

There are no words to express our complete and utter sadness upon learning of Christopher's passing. We can only hope that the memories of good times together and the love, prayers and support of family and friends will help get you through.

We send our sincere sympathy and love!

“ Thanksgiving at Woodloch was everyone's favorite time of year. The walnut hunt, decorating cookies, and of course the scavenger hunt. Chris would do whatever his cousins told him to do in order to win. Including dressing him up as a turkey. I hope all of those happy memories bring you some comfort. love, Janet
