“ It has been my honor and privilege to be a close friend of the wonderful Dobbs family for almost 50 years. What great memories we are so grateful to have and cherish forever. Emerson passing so soon after his dear father Jay has truly broken our hearts once again. Emerson grew up to be a fine man, loving son, brother and devoted husband, friend and father in the beautiful family he and Tania created. Rest in peace Emerson knowing you lived a too brief but wonderful life and that you will always be loved, missed and never forgotten.

SO

Dear Tania and Diane, Emerson James, Enzo and Ethan,

I wish I had the words to fully express my sorrow for you. Losing Emerson, a young and vital father, husband, son and friend, is a tragic loss for everyone.

Emerson was much more than a landlord to me. I have been a tenant at 23 Green for 27 years, and I watched Emerson grow from a young adult into a mature father and responsible businessman. In every interaction we ever had, whether just a friendly chat in the hallway or parking lot, negotiations for a new office lease, or resolving a building level problem together, Emerson was one of the most thoughtful, kind, responsive and mannerly men I have ever known. I terribly miss his quiet and reassuring presence around the building. Diane and Tania, Emerson and I had many laughs together - from the old building buzzer system (I loved those old yellowed buttons and Emerson had to drag me kicking and screaming to add that new electronic buzzer system to my cell), to more important matters, such as how each of his lovely children were doing. Every conversation was helpful and earnest.

Emerson James, Enzo and Ethan, please know that your dad was a man among men. He was always true to his word, and he was there whenever I needed him. As you grow up, you will realize that those qualities are not readily found in all people, but they abounded in your father. Your father was a noble and special soul on this earth who accomplished great things by helping people every day. He helped me countless times during the past decades and always with a smile. Your father is alive through you now, and if you close your eyes, he is standing there with you.

Kahlil Gibran wrote, "When you are sorrowful, look again in your heart, and you shall see that in truth you are weeping for that which has been your delight." We weep with you at this tragic time because such an elegant human being has been taken from us in the most untimely way.

If there is anything at all that I can do for you, please call on me freely and without reservation. You are a beautiful and wonderful family.

With great sorrow and all my love,

Sandra Baldo O'Reilly
