“ I hated to be gone during the week of Fred's passing. I thought he would always be with us. But I have to rejoice that I was privileged to know and work with Fred for about 25 years. He was my friend and will be in my memory always. I look forward to carrying on his work in whatever way I can.

“ I will truly miss my friend Fred who had such a gentle way of dealing with people and issues. He was a "real" gentleman and his mark on education programs on Long Island will continue for many years to come. My life was made richer by knowing you Fred! Rest in peace!

“ Fred got me to say "yes" every time I spoke with him, not sure how he did it but his gentle and consistent approach could wear your reservations down. His goal to serve the children of Long Island was a driving force for me. This high standard had me out in the cold for a week building a machine shop in an unheated trailer in my driveway, to make sure we could provide the Robotic Teams a place to repair their robots at the FIRST event, with his persistence we were able to equip it with tools and machines at little to no cost. But Fred was truly a man of conviction, a steady force and someone who would not let his mission go unfilled. He let nothing get in the way of getting Businesses to recognize they needed to be an active part in developing our future work force. May perpetual light shine on him.

“ It was my great pleasure to know and work with Fred for many years. I met him in 1988 when I was working in the Malverne School District and was honored to serve first on the Advisory Council and then for many years on SBPLI Board of Directors. Fred's passion was for the students and for giving them every possible opportunity for success. His dedication to the Robotics initiative was inspiring and contagious. He left a wonderful legacy and he will be sorely missed!

“ I am stunned and in shock over Fred's passing, contemplating a very big ?something missing?. We have lost a man who dedicated his charm and winning ?way? to the worthy goal of guiding our youth to be all they can be. Fred inspired gracious professionalism and lived it. His ?way? is irreplaceable and I choose to keep it in the forefront as a fond and inspirational memory. He has left a legacy that few of us can match. God be with you Fred.
