“ John McMenoman was everyone’s “Uncle Johnny” !
Most of us here have been recipients to his “J&J” treats...”no bill for you - Johnny Mac took care of it already”. And the billion other ways his gifted generosity showered on us all.

Ready to build any thing, any time - This carpenter was always on duty!

Houses by trade and wood hand-carving hobbies galore....When he learned Arnold’s horse needed a home, he showed up with a truck load of lumber to build the stable!

His hobby list was long and it wasn’t just an antique collectible, it was a story.

Uncle Johnny was an amazing Historian and each & every item he collected came with complete background info - the “who, what, where, when & how” it was used or operated. Especially his Love for the “Hit & Miss” Engines - many fond memories formed during years of antique motor shows with Uncle Johnny at the helm.

We cannot tell Uncle Johnny’s story without Aunt Joan!

Their names were synonymous for nearly 80 years.

Where there was Johnny...there was Joan.

They had their own “Love Language” - even if some times heard in between the lines :)

Their Love & Care for each other was real and long lasting.

In Uncle Johnny’s younger years, he’d dress up as Santa for all the family and hand out the gifts - A very joy-filled Santa!

And speaking of gifts - How about those Tomatoes!

Boy did he know how to grow them.

Everyone - and I mean, Everyone - knew when they bit into an “Uncle Johnny Tomato”!

It was the gift that was expected every Summer.

Cars would pull up and red pipes were picked & packed !

In ending, We would just like to say....

We Love You “Johnny Mac by the Rail Road Track” !!

“ I met uncle John when was just 23 when he became my godfather. I remember he being Santa coming over on Christmas with aunt Joan with such lovely gifts for all of us. He would sneak a shot with Dad. And in Easter they would bring large chocolate bunnies. Always was kind and generous man. He will be missed. My sympathy to all the family. Deborah Vandermaas

“ John was a great friend and fun to be around. We spent many years going out to Montauk, Rough and Tumble, Steam school, the Hudson auction and our local club Long Island antique Power. John got me started with hit and miss engines 37 years ago. I loved listening to the stories about old huntington station. He was a very talented guy and could fix or build anything. I will miss him
