“ I had the good fortune of working for Joe at Mincone and Mincone for about 6 years. I will always remember Joe's strength of character and will. I was blessed to have known him and am very glad that Joe gave himself to Christ. I look forward to seeing him again some day.

“ We are so sorry to hear of the passing of Joe. Joe has come in and out of my life during the past 35+ years, first as a friend in high school and then as a fellow parent of our children who played baseball together.

When I first ran into Joe ten years ago at Spring Training, it was so nice to see his smiling face again. We talked for awhile and I realized that Joe hadn't changed a bit since he was a boy in school. Joe still had that quite demeanor, witty sense of humor and contagious smile. RIP Joe. Hope to see you again some day.

“ I have known Joe ever since childhood and will miss him greatly. Joe was always warm and kind and had a sunny disposition. His true character shined thru over these past years in the way in which he handled his struggle with cancer. I had many chances to see him both personally and professionally and he always and a kind word to say and NEVER a cross one. Even on days I could tell he was suffering as I saw him in my office he had a kind word and asked people on my staff how they were doing. His inner strength shined like a true beacon of compassion and warmth. In his hour of pain he took time out to ask about others and I never once heard him complain. I knew him to be a great friend but more importantly a devoted husband and father who was so proud of his family. Joe will be sorely missed and I know he is beside God as I write this. Joe, you and your family are and always will be in my prayers.

“ Dear Linda and Family,
A human life is a story told by God. (Hans Christian Andersen)
I know how proud Joe was of his family, his accomplishments as a successful business man and attorney. Nadine and I will always remember Joe with love and treasure our memories of times spent with him.
For Joe - you wrote a magnificent story and you will never be forgotten.
Please accept our heartfelt sympathy.
Sincerely,
Jim and Nadine

“ It is with true regret that I learned of Joe's passing. He was a professional in every sense of the word and I always felt he really cared about your personal circumstances. He gave law and mortgage banking a GOOD name and I am proud to have known him.

“ Rest in Peace Joe. Tremendous figure in our industry, consummate professional and gentleman. The practice of law on LI lost a great lawyer, ultimate innovator and an even sharper mind. You leave a legacy that will not soon be forgotten.

“ Joe had been a friend of mine for nearly 4 decades. The ensuing poem (which are the lyrics of a song I wrote) was his favorite.

And I Call You Friend by Lawrence Spiro

I

Perchance the stars dot the night sky

Day and night converge to why

The seas and earth sing and sigh

(Chorus) And I (and I) call you my friend

II

When spring shoots past winters stay

Dawn to dusk you candle the way

Fall is leaving summer's play

(Chorus) And I (and I) call you my friend

III

Alone, or lost nor dark or glare

Storm yield to fresh gentle fair

In the time together we share

(Chorus) And I (and I) call you my friend

IV

I know your name you are my teacher

My mind sees that you are so near

This is why I will not have fear

(Chorus) And I (and I) call you my friend

“ I have known many people from all walks of life in my 52 years, but I don't think I've known anyone else quite as genuine, open, caring, sincere, warm, accepting, honest, friendly, non-judgemental, gracious and truly concerned about others, not only in what they had to say, but also just as interested in how he might be of help in any way possible than Joseph Mincone. He had an uncanny gift of making everyone who came into contact with him, be it through friendship, business, or otherwise, feel respected and important...everybody in the room smiled when they were engaged in conversation with Joe about anything at all, and always enjoyed talking with him. I cannot recall ever having personally had or having seen a single hostile or argumentative moment anywhere involving Joe...it simply just wasn't his way. He exuded dignity, goodwill, friendship, and respect as naturally and humbly as the day was long. As I reflect back, I consider having him as a lifelong trusted friend and confidante to have been one of the most memorable and rewarding relationships of my life, and I always will. I know that Joe considered his adoring wife and wonderful family as his greatest success-and as the cliché goes, one either goes through life and sees the glass as half empty or half full...but in Joe's eyes, and how he lived his life, the glass was forever overflowing!
