“ When you're a kid and you meet your friends' moms, you usually think of them as "moms." That's how I started out thinking of my friend Renee's Mom, Lili Boczkowski. And then, somehow through the years, Renee's Mom one day became "My friend Lili." Lili seemed to always be there for me, always had the time to give me her sage advice and share her wisdom. Lili and I both enjoyed letter writing, and we would occasionally write letters to one another. That was and will always be one of my life's treasures - sending and receiving letters from my friend Lili.

?By cool Siloam's shady rill / How sweet the lily grows! / How sweet the breath beneath the hill / Of Sharon's dewy rose!?

I will miss you, sweet Lily.

Your friend Patricia
