“ To the whole Kane family, I am sorry I can not be with you to celebrate a full and wonderful life. My earliest memories of your mom were seeing her when I played over at the McGee house. You were all older than Nancy and I but your mom was always kind to me.

*I was also with my mother when we ran into your mother in front of your house on 87th St. It was that evening that the two mothers conspired to get Jeff and Regina together. Blame the mothers!!!! When those two got together they had stories to tell - stories about all of us. Two great loving hearts, two gracious ladies each in their own way. I will be with mom in Tennessee as you gather at St. Elizabeth's to celebrate your mother's, your grandmother's, your great grandmother's final homecoming. We will celebrate with you in Nashville. Special love and prayers for each of you,
Rose McNamara*
