

Stephen Gregory Karwoski

August 22, 1949 - July 19, 2020

Stephen Gregory Karwoski, sadly passed on July 19, 2020. He was born on August 22, 1949 in Brooklyn, NY and grew up there, attending Stuyvesant High School and earning a Masters of Fine Arts from Queens College. In a long career as a printing pressman, he rose to Printing Production Supervisor at The New York Times.

He will be remembered and dearly missed by his beloved wife Lucy; the daughters he adored, Lauren Magee (Max), and Elise Donatelli (Luke); his cherished grandchildren August, Miles, Maeve, and Graham; and his mother Jane Karwoski, to whom he was devoted. He is also remembered and missed by his dear sisters Jeanette Morgano and Mary Setti. He is predeceased by his father, Stephen Karwoski (2003).

In lieu of flowers, the family has requested that donations may be made to Long Island Cares, Inc. - The Harry Chapin Food Bank.

“ My family is Catholic but we read the New York Times for my business courses at Saint Mary's College in South Bend Indiana and my inlaws maintain a subscription to the newspaper as we all live in the state of New York now. My sympathies to the family on the passing of your loved one.
