

Ursula Marie Stankiewicz

August 5, 1919 - February 21, 2018

Ursula Marie Stankiewicz, (nee Pollio), at the age of 98, passed on February 21, 2018. Loving wife of the late Henry Sr. Devoted mother of Henry Jr. (Linda), and Ursula (Robert) Brown. Cherished grandmother of Sara (Justin) Pitman, Lindsay (Greg) Stanislow, Adam, and Chelsea and great grandmother of Henry, Amelia, and Josephine. Aunt to nine equally loved nieces and nephews. Beloved sister of the late John and Vera. Retired elementary teacher in Huntington's Half Hollow Hills School. After retirement she was active in many bridge groups. She will be fondly remembered for sharing many Italian meals with her family. She was a crossword enthusiast, avid reader, and most importantly cherished her beloved family. In lieu of flowers donations can be made in Ursula's name to www.TeamHeart.org.

“ I first met Ursula in 1962 when I was a new teacher in Half Hollow Hills. Ursula was friendly and helpful to me. We took some courses together, went out to dinner, and to the theater in NYC. I did not see much of Ursula after she retired, but have many fond memories of her.
Blessings to you all.

“ *Mom was simply the best mom anyone could have. She always put Ursula and I first.
As Stephen Colbert said when he is mother passed: it may seem greedy to want more days with a woman was lived so long. The fact that our mom was 98 ...only magnifies the enormity of the room whose doors have quietly shut.*
